BUZZARDS BAY, MASS.
TRAINING SHIP "BAY STATE"

Now hear this . . .

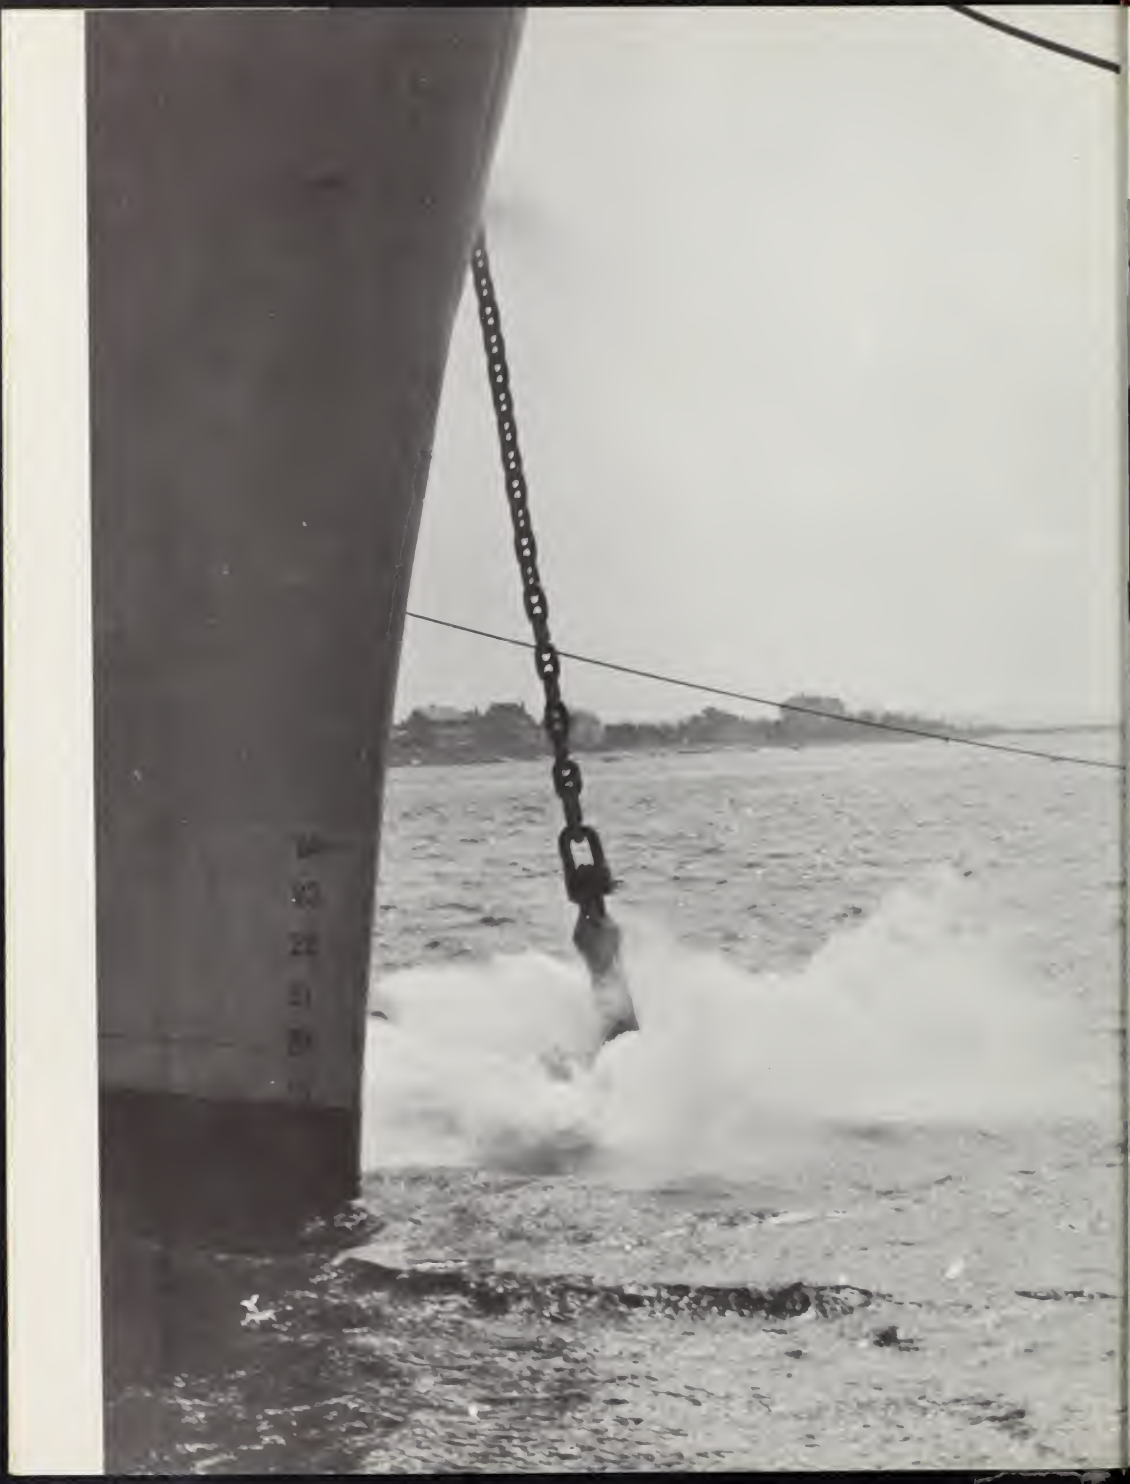
TELEPHONE

The main function of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy is to prepare young men to sail the ships of the American Merchant Marine as licensed officers.



This is accomplished in three intensive years of study and preparation. the new midshipman undergoes a rigourous indoctrination and finds himself in a new environment.

He must adapt to this new way of life quickly for there is much to learn. The course of study during the first year is basically mathematics, science, language, and ecomonics.

The so called professional studies commence during the second year together with added liberal arts courses.

BAY STATE

It is at this point that the cadet decides whether to be an engineer or a deckman. Which ever course he chooses he must devote his attention to what is to be learned.

The deck midshipmen specialize in navigation, seamanship, spherical trigonometry, and other various nautical science courses.

The engine cadets begin their study or marine engineering, calculus electricity, turbines, boilers, and various other associated subjects.

The first class year is devoted to even more advanced professional study. Deckmen continue with the study of celestial navigation, piloting, cargo handling, maritime law, etc.

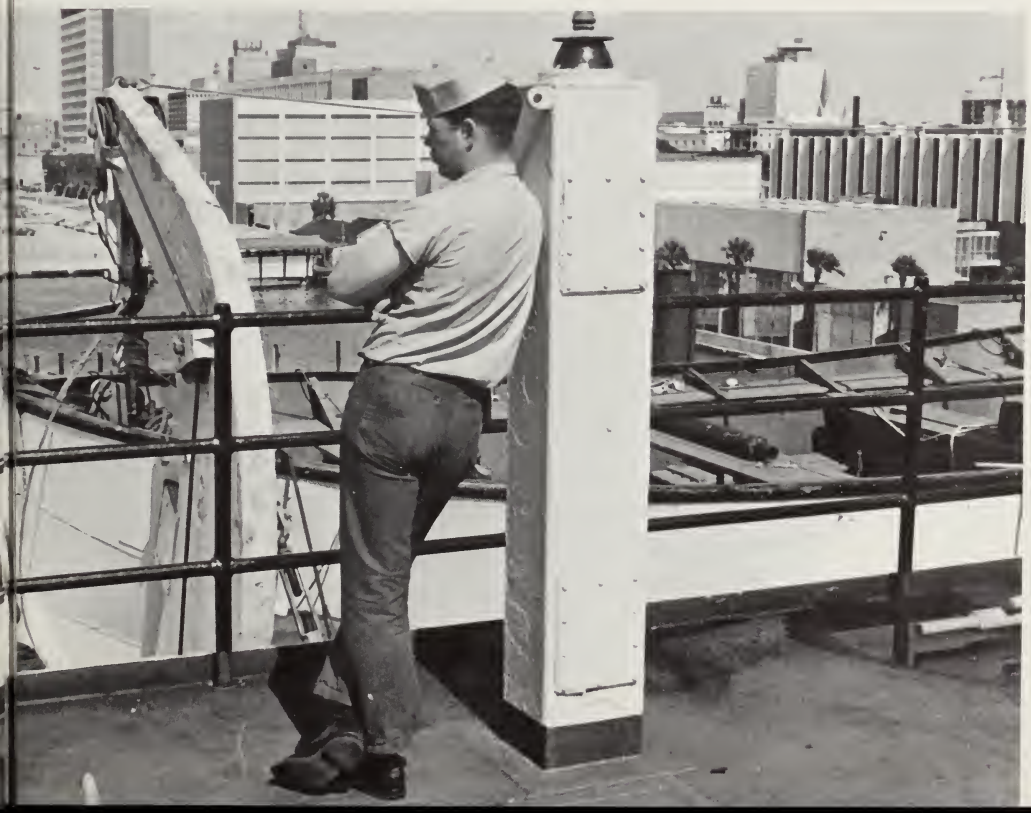
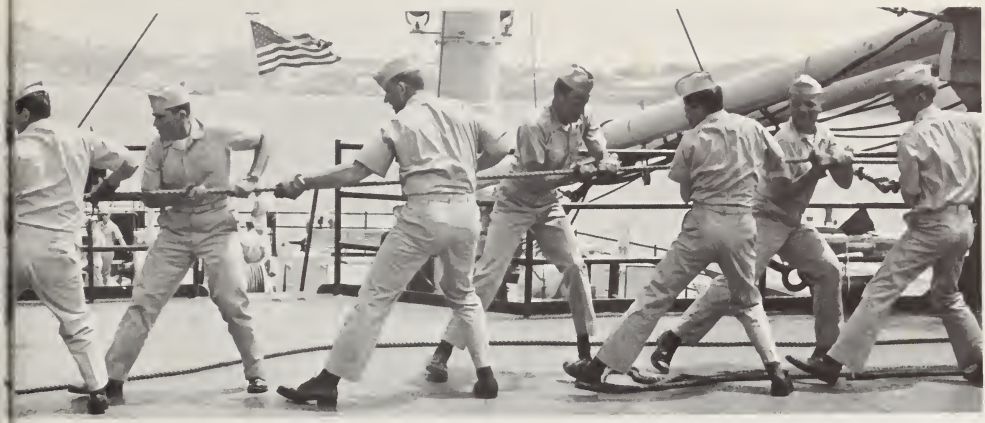
The engineers study steam and diesel marine plant operation, nuclear power, electronics, etc.



At the end of the first class year the graduating class is eligible to sit for a Coast Guard license as Third Mate or Third Assistant Engineer, receive a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nautical Science or Marine and Electrical Engineering, and a Commission as Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.



Massachusetts Maritime graduates are in great demand throughout the maritime industry because they are best qualified to do the job.

A Message from the President

Professionally "accredited" since its beginning by the United States Coast Guard licensing requirements, the Massachusetts Maritime Academy is now in the process of extending its 33-month course to a 43-month, or "four-year" course of instruction. This will make regional academic accreditation feasible and stengthen rather than weaken our permanent objective of excellence in maritime training. Thus, this catalog – the first full description of the Academy and its objectives – comes at a most appropriate time.

The success of the institutuion and its graduates over the past three-quarters of a century is certain promise of our success now and in the future.

A. Sanford Limouze,
Rear Admiral USMS

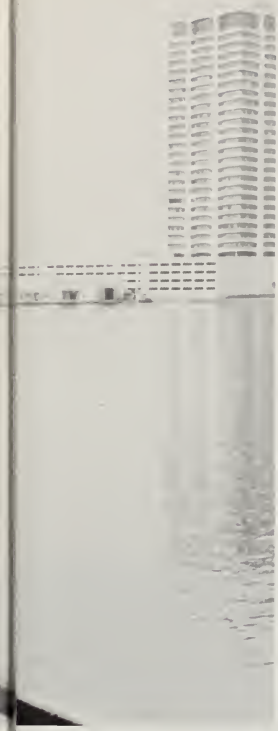
The training ship has always been an integral part of Massachusetts Maritime Academy training.

P.YEZINA

The first such training ship was the "Enterprise" put into service as a training ship in 1893. She was a wooden hulled, bark rigged, steam vessel.

From this point Massachusetts Maritime Academy's reputation for having a greater percent of its graduates pursue a nautical career than any other academy began to grow.

In 1909 the "Enterprise" was replaced by the "Ranger", later renamed the "Rockport" and saw service as a coastal patrol vessel during World War One.



Following WW I she was christened "Nantucket" and served until June 1949, when the academy was moved to its present location at Buzzards Bay.

The gunboat "Charleston" then became the next training ship. This was the first all steel steamship to be used as a training vessel.

SEA

The "Charleston" served until 1957 when the "U.S.S. Doyen" was taken from the moth ball fleet and renamed "U.S.T.S. Bay State".

She served in most of the major campaigns in the Pacific during World War II and is still campaigning today as training ship at Massachusetts Maritime Academy.

Cadet Organizations and Activities

The Academic program at Massachusetts Maritime Academy is complemented by voluntary cadet participation in the following non-athletic organizations and activities. In each area of interest, a member of the faculty serves as advisor to provide guidance and continuity to the program.

Cadet Publications

The Academy has two student publications. "The Spill Pipe" is a student newspaper published periodically and the "Muster" is the annual yearbook.

Ring Dance

The annual Ring Dance is a well established tradition of the graduating class. A feature of the event is a precision drill by the Honor Guard.

Band

The Academy marching band is open to those cadets with talent and interest in this area. Rehearsals are held once or twice each week.

Circle "K" Club

This club is a junior branch of the Bourne Kiwanis Club and participates with that organization in its projects of responsible citizenship in the community. Weekly meetings are held.

Newman Club

Catholic cadets may affiliate themselves with this organization which exists to satisfy the spiritual, social and cutural needs of college level students. A Chaplain is provided for this activity by St. Margaret's parish in Buzzards Bay. Meetings are every other week.

Propeller Club

The Student Port of the Propeller Club is chartered by the national organization and has as its purpose introduction of the cadet to the affairs of the maritime industry. The club meets every other week.

Sailing Club

The Academy has a variety of small craft available to cadets for recreational sailing. In addition there are three Shields one-design sloops which have been entered in local races, earning recognition in yachting circles.

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club provides an activity for cadets interested in the use of firearms. Practice is held regularly and as a member of the National Rifle Association, the club competes in local and regional N. R. A. competitions.

Drama Club

The Drama Club is a most recent addition to cadet club activities. Started in 1967 with the successful production of "Stalag 17", expanded programs are being planned.

Athletic Program

The Physical Education and Athletic Program assists in the preparation of each cadet for a physically active career in the U. S. Merchant Marine.

The Battalion of Cadets is represented by varsity intercollegiate teams in cross-country,soccer and rowing. The intramural program includes basketball, golf, touch football, volleyball, softball, sailing and rowing. Tournaments are held and a champion named in competitive events. Special rewards in the form of special liberty and prizes are determined by the Athletic Board.

The Maritime Academy is a member of the following:
Colonial Inter-Collegiate Soccer Conference
International Soccer Association
National Rifle Association

It is customary to place the "ad" section of a yearbook at the very end of the publication. Although we are slaves to this custom, we wish to express our conviction that this position in no way reflects our sincere appreciation to those who made this book possible through their generous support.

From the smallest contribution in the patrons section, to the full page ads, each has given what he could, and in the agregate, this generosity has made the 1969 MUSTER possible.

Our sincere thanks to one and all.

Look ahead with LYKES.

The future belongs to both of us.

The career for which you are preparing has no higher standards or goals than those set by the LYKES organization. For generations, the LYKES officer has shared our tradition of service in the United States Merchant Marine, the challenge of ever-new methods, and the deep personal satisfaction which individual enterprise brings.

We have the largest, most modern privately owned American flag fleet, with the most new ships of 20 knots and over, including those of the highly automated Gulf Clipper Class. And even newer Lykes ships of the future—giant all purpose inter-modal carriers providing a whole new method of ocean transportation—are scheduled for service in 1970. You can be proud to join the Lykes team, a leader in ocean transportation since 1900.

We expect you to be a trained officer in the United States Merchant Marine and we'll treat you accordingly. ☐ You can rate big with us. ☐ If hard work is your bag. ☐ If you want to sail modern ships. ☐ If you want to raise your license quickly — ahead of the crowd. ☐ If you think of transportation as an integrated industry with a bright future. ☐ American Export Isbrandtsen Lines is a growing company because we're a pioneering company. Nuclear power, gas-turbine power, containerships, a roll-on/roll-off ship, modern cargoliners—North Europe, the Mediterranean, South Asia, the Far East—they're all part of our scene. And we run a taut ship, on land and at sea. ☐ If this sounds like your kind of Merchant Marine, let's get together. And get ahead.

What do Brooklyn, Elizabeth, Hoboken and Newark have in common – that's important to you?

They are all part of The Port of New York and they all have modern and technologically advanced Marine Terminals equal to any in the world. They handle cargo, any kind of cargo—quickly, efficiently and economically. Ten container berths are now completed at Elizabeth and Port Newark with sixteen more under construction. They make The Port of New York the container capital of the world.

If you'd like to learn about our Brooklyn, Elizabeth, Hoboken and Port Newark facilities—simply write to the address below. One of our transportation specialists will be glad to tell you about the particular advantages of each terminal and give you the specific facts on how they can save you time and money.
